"Strengthen Our Home" Theme of SUP Heritage Program

by Mark Nichols

"Strengthen Our Home" was the central theme of the American Freedoms Pioneer Heritage Program Seminar conducted at SUP Headquarters on May 24th. The Seminar was conducted by Mark Nichols, coordinator for this Pioneer Heritage Program.

All SUP chapter presidents had received an invitation to attend the Seminar and the presidents or president-elect from twenty-two chapters were in attendance.

Song leaders from eleven chapters were present and participated in the music session. In addition there were others from the general SUP Board and elsewhere for total of forty persons who participated in the complimentary buffet luncheon provided by Jerry Sine, the most recent Life Member of the National Society.

The afternoon session of the Seminar was devoted to a presentation and discussion of the "Love at Home" Educational program for chapters. A packet of instructional materials for this program was distributed to each participant.

This program features a "Love at Home" calendar on which a family may develop a curriculum compact of Freedoms Behavioral goals designed to "Strengthen Our Home". The slogan for this activity is "Strengthen Our Home With Love and Freedom."

This project provides an activity which can interest all chapter members to participate and serve as a hitching post for friendship prospective members with growing families of children and youth. Such friendship should provide a welcome door through which such fathers may wish to enter as new chapters members.

Resource materials for the "Strengthen Our Home" project involve four items: "The Love At Home calendar", The Family Guide brochure with directions for conducting the Love at Home Educational program, the Family Home Institute Diploma for recognizing families who successfully carry out the goals, and a Carry On Honors Citation to be awarded to Chapter members who perform meritorious Pioneer Heritage activities.

A packet containing 20 copies of these four items together with other instructional and activity suggestions is available to each participating chapter.

Mid-Year Appraisal Brings New Energies Towards Goals

This year is half gone and it is time to review the goals made at the first of the year. Two of these goals need our special attention. If we were serious about doubling our membership we should now have fifty percent more members than we had last year. Doubling the membership is not unreasonable.

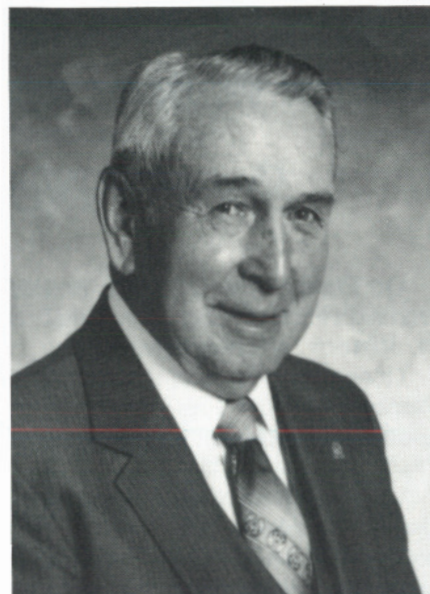

For example, recently the Cedar City Chapter sponsored a chapter in Hurricane, Utah. The new "Hurricane Valley Chapter" was organized with the assistance of Foyer Olsen, Lorin Hirschi, Verdell Hinton and other members of the new chapter. In four months, they chartered the chapter with fifty-three members in attendance. There have been several other chapters organized this year also.

Membership expansion would solve most of the problems of this organization. "PLEASE," let's make a concentrated effort to extend the bonds of friendship and membership in the Sons of the Utah Pioneers to all our friends, that they too may enjoy this great organization.

I have just received the membership chart that shows membership increase or loss during the year 1986. I am truly amazed that we have lost one hundred and thirty members from last year's total of twenty-two hundred and five members. This makes it imperative that all members lend their support in recruiting new members. Let's all do it "NOW".

The second goal was to increase the memorialization program. This goal now becomes a "MUST", as we have a newly designed remodeling program for our building. This entails a front entrance to the basement area and remodeling the downstairs to make it more attractive and functional for chapter meetings and other purposes. The estimated cost is approximately $50,000.00.

The best source of funds for this project is through the memorialization program. These were the funds that primarily built our building, and would permit all members to participate.

Ruth and I are looking forward to the National Convention and hope to see you all there.

SUP Convention Plans Complete, Says Host Chapter

by Leo L. Mower

Holladay Chapter, the host for the 1986 National Convention, says that all arrangements have been made for an exciting and informative convention in Salt Lake City at the Marriott Hotel, August 21-23, 1986.

The convention committee has worked hard to make these three days and the following Sunday morning extra special for all who attend. There are involvements having to do with the history of Salt Lake City and the surrounding area, with those things that are of special concern to all of us at the present time, and with events that will in some ways effect our activities in the near or distant future. All events await you in an atmosphere of comraderie and fun where new friends can be made and many old acquaintances renewed.

Activities are scheduled in rapid succession from beginning to end. Thursday morning, beginning at 7:00 a.m. is convention registration and time for a walking tour, shopping, and visiting. An orientation meeting and workshops, followed by dinner, complete with speaker and music, will conclude the evening.

Scheduled activities for Friday are

from 7:00 a.m. until late evening with a bus tour in the morning. A unique program for the ladies is featured during the afternoon.

A special morning program for the ladies and the National SUP Annual Business Meeting will dominate the schedule for Saturday morning. It is at the conclusion of this meeting that the previously selected delegates will elect the new president-elect and the area vice presidents. It is important that the chapters have their allotted number of delegates registered at the convention in order to be properly represented. Special badges will be issued to delegates for identification purposes.

The awards luncheon will be Saturday afternoon with all of those registered at the convention in attendance. It is here that all individual and chapter awards will be presented. This is a change in procedure from previous years.

The President's Banquet, presided over by our national president, Wayne Mallet, will be at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday evening for all convention attenders. The scheduled guest speaker for this event is Ezra Taft Benson, President of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Indiana Chapter Added to SUP

by Glen Greenwood

It was with a great deal of pleasure that Wally and Elda Bates and my wife Donna and I were able to attend the Circle City/Indiana Chapter meeting at Indianapolis for their monthly meeting. They have an active and energetic chapter that I feel sure we will be hearing from in the future.

We were treated to a delicious meal prepared by the wives of each member. Here again, we find some exceptional cooks. After the dinner, it was our pleasure to present the charter for this chapter to President Norman Bradfield.

The charter has the names of 13 members inscribed on it. Out of the 13 members, ten couples were able to be in attendance.

Following the presentation of the charter, Wally and I were able to each take a few minutes to explain the projects of the S.U.P. These were well received and we are sure that this chapter will go forward and become outstanding.

I wish to thank Norman Bradfield for the many hours he has spent to make this chapter a reality. I also wish to thank his mother, Mrs. Edmen Murphey, for the help we have received from her and her husband.

Chimney in a Meadow

by Robert E. Jones
Holladay Chapter

In a lonely field
Stands a lonely hearth,
A chimney in a meadow,
alone.

The roof that once covered is blown in the storm;
The window that lighted,
is shattered and gone;
The wall that enclosed,
is eaten by worms;
The door that protected,
from its hinge is torn.

Alone stands the hearth,
Alone in the field,
A chimney in a meadow,
alone.

Gone is the house.
Gone is the door.
Gone are the children
Who played there of yore.
Gone are the buttercups
Tended with care
By a pioneer mother
Who planted them there.

The house o'er the hearth
May be fallen and gone,
The pioneer who built it
May lie under stone,
The rocking-chair mother
May be weary and done,
But the love there engendered--
Like the hearth -- will live on!

Alone stands the hearth,
Alone in the field,
A chimney in a meadow,
alone.

About 20 years ago, inspired by a chimney I saw standing in a meadow near Beaver, I composed a verse entitled Chimney in a Meadow.

Since moving to Salt Lake and joining SUP it has occurred to me that this verse and the photo might be of interest to the readers of Pioneer.

The photo, taken recently, shows the chimney which inspired this verse still standing in Southern Utah.

Drive Renewed to Honor LDS Pioneers

by Stan Stevenson

Don't forget Great, Great Grandfather, who did so much for so many. After all, if he was the ancestor who crossed the plains or the one who pulled or pushed a handcart leaving bloody tracks in the sand . . . how can we forget?

The National Society of the Sons of the Utah Pioneers has commenced a program for the registration of Pioneer families who reached the Salt Lake Valley before May 10, 1869. The registration will open the way to memorialization of those stalwart and brave men and women that settled this great valley. Special provisions have also been made to memorialize those who came after May 10, 1869.

D. Wayne Mallet, National President of the Sons of Utah Pioneers, in discussing the project made this comment, "Failure to memorialize our pioneer ancestors is a failure to record in the annals of history the name-by-name credit due for a great accomplishment." Then he added, ". . . it's a sacred duty to memorialize those names."

Names submitted for memorialization must meet the pioneer qualifications of arriving in the valley before May 10, 1869.

Once qualified, the names are engraved upon permanent anodized aluminum panels. The panels hang in the "Gallery of the Pioneers" at the National Headquarters located at 3301 East 2920 South, Salt Lake City, Utah.

First things first: Register your family organization together with the name of the person who is responsible for the family organization. If you don't have a family organization, send your name to the above address and the Sons of the Utah Pioneers will render some help. Research will be necessary to establish the date of arrival in the valley. It is a desirable procedure to submit all family names at the same time so all family names may be memorialized together.

Tom Daniels of the Church Genealogical Department made this comment regarding the project, "There is a need to communicate with family organizations from time to time to make announcements of interest to family organizations, for coordination of genealogical research or information about family reunions. The Sons of the Utah Pioneers are to be commended for the project of registering pioneer families."

B. Young Challenge Runs for Second Annual Observance

by Gerald Anderson

One of the exciting events sponsored by the Sons of Utah Pioneers this year has been the Brigham Young Challenge. This run was held Saturday morning, May 31. It consisted of four ten-mile sections of the pioneer trail coming into the Salt Lake Valley. The run started at Echo, continuing on into Henefer, up past East Canyon and on into Salt Lake Valley.

On each ten-mile stretch several people participated by running anywhere from one to ten miles.

Some were worried about being able to run the full mile while others had been training for this event. The most excited seemed to be the kids. This gave them a chance to run, something they love to do, and yet it had a special meaning since they would be running over the actual trail that the pioneers had walked.

At the conclusion of each section of the run you could see the pride of all the participants and hear them tell how fun the run had been. Most were planning how next year they would be in better shape.

This annual run is a great opportunity for a family to have an activity that the entire family can participate in without a feeling of competition and yet a lot of lessons can be taught from the experience. Putting aside the experience of preparing for and running a mile is the experience of being a part of history.

The next time one of the runners in the Brigham Young Challenge reads about or has a lesson on the pioneers he or she will have a different feeling about what the pioneers experienced.

A very successful evening of entertainment was enjoyed by the Mesa Chapter Monday evening, March 10th at the King's Table in Mesa, with 80 in attendance.

Lewis Adams, President-elect, conducted. Delmar Layton was in charge of the program. The honored guests were Spencer and Ethelyn Madsen, recently called to the Jamaican Mission. A special letter of appreciation for Spencer and his wife and their leadership in SUP was read by Paul J. Updike, Vice President at large. SUP President Wayne Mallet and Executive Secretary Glen Greenwood had signed the letter.

The program consisted of three original songs by David Allen, using his own guitar accompaniment. There was a funny song, a patriotic song, and a pioneer song.

His own life history was given by President Robert T. Wagstaff, right, presents Certificate to Elder Dallin Oaks, as Sister Oaks prepares lapel pin.

Spencer Dwayne Madsen. It was very humorous and well done, telling of his marriage and years in the army as a chaplain. He had given great service as an area vice president for Arizona these past 5 years.

Corvel Jackson, an internationally known track and field coach from Mesa Community College, emphasized the winning of track events in Russia, featuring the fellowshiping athletics can bring benefits even to rival nations.

Lewis Adams received his life membership. Eleven out-of-state visitors were present.

Life Member Pin For Dallin Oaks

On April 24th, the Olympus Hills Chapter of the Sons of Utah Pioneers heard an address by Elder Dallin H. Oaks, who was accompanied by Sister Oaks.

The event was held at the National Headquarters. There were 40 couples who attended the dinner meeting.

Elder Oaks was presented a certificate and Life Member pin by Chapter President Robert T. Wagstaff.

Elder Oaks is missionary, former president of Brigham Young University, and was appointed as a Justice in the Utah State Supreme Court where he served until his Church calling.

Golden Spike Trek Draws Chartered Bus from Holladay

by Leo L. Mower

Early on Saturday morning, May 10, 1986, 44 individuals from the Holladay SUP Chapter boarded a large bus bound for the Golden Spike National Historic Site. It is located 32 miles west of Brigham City, Utah.

They came to watch the annual re-enactment of the original joining of the railroad tracks from the east and west coasts of our great nation. Enroute, Ralph Frandsen and others relayed historical information concerning the countryside and Scott Williams led the singing of a number of familiar songs.

On May 10, 1869 the ceremonies began at noon when Central Pacific's "Jupiter" and Union Pacific's "119" steamed slowly up to the gap in the tracks. Irish and Chinese laborers then put the final rail in place.

A polished laurel tie, pre-drilled to receive four ceremonial spikes, was slid into place under the rails at 12:20 p.m. After opening remarks and a prayer, two gold spikes from California were dropped into the tie. Next came a silver spike from Nevada and a spike of an iron, gold, and silver alloy from Arizona. These spikes were then symbolically "driven" with a silver-plated sledge.

Finally came the actual driving of the last spike—an ordinary spike into an ordinary tie with an ordinary sledge. It was driven by Leland Stanford, president of Central Pacific railroad and Dr. Thomas Durant, vice-president of the Union Pacific railroad. The telegrapher tapped out "DONE," triggering celebrations in every major city in the United States.

Returning from this memorable trek two short side trips were taken, both of them along parts of the original roadbeds.

Home from Mission

H. Grant Terry (Life Member) and his wife Maree B. Terry (D.U.P. Member) of Mesa, Arizona Chapter, recently returned from serving a mission to the South Carolina - Columbia Mission office where Grant was Financial Secretary/Fleet Coordinator and Maree was Mission Secretary.

Hear Golden Spike, Convention Plans

by Stuart H. Richards

At the May 15, 1986 monthly meeting of the Temple Fork Chapter, Dr. John J. Stewart, professor of English at Utah State University, was guest speaker. He is mayor of River Heights and director of the Golden Spike Association, playing a key role in the annual Driving of the Golden Spike at Promontory Point May 10th of each year, and also author of the Life of Joseph Fielding Smith and other notable works.

Lewis and Betty Murdock, 1986 National Convention chairmen of the Holladay Chapter, encouraged all to attend the convention in Salt Lake City.

Conclude 1986 Forms, Says Awards Committee

by Sam Gordon

The awards committee encourages all chapters to participate in the achievement program. Each chapter which submits an application will receive a certificate based on the points earned.

The committee is convinced that the program stimulates activity within the chapter and creates interest in the community.

Each National Vice President has been asked to attempt to contact each chapter in his area and submit applications for awards by July 8th. However, applications will be accepted until July 20th for chapters which may not have been contacted by their vice presidents, or have not been instructed. Materials needed are available at SUP National Headquarters.

SUP Charter Granted at Hurricane Valley

by Owen Sanders

Seventy-five people attended the Charter Night banquet and program held at the Hurricane Community Center May 16, forming the Hurricane Valley Chapter.

The Cedar City Chapter, sponsoring the new chapter, was represented by Loren Hirschi, Leslie Pugh, and Alva Matheson. President D. Wayne Mallet presented the charter to Verdell Hinton, chapter president, along with a $100 check from SUP for having fifty members registered for charter night. After presentation of the charter, Robert Langston gave a charming poetic sketch of the life of his ancestor, John Langston.

Ken Osterud, who had taught at the University of Washington for 35 years, has selected Hurricane for his retirement home. He entertained the group with a professional slide show depicting the awesome scenery surrounding the Hurricane Valley.

To contribute a historic background to the inspired purpose of the SUP, Owen Sanders recited two of his published poems "Heritage" and "The Pattern."

Eleven of 23 living charter members of the Brigham Young SUP Chapter were present as the organization marked the 31st anniversary of its founding. From left, seated, Edward L. Hart, Jesse W. Reeder, Reed H. Bradford, Oliver R. Smith and Leland M. Perry. Standing: Mark K. Allen, Briant S. Jacobs, James L. Jacobs, Verl G. Dixon, Richard D. Poll and Jay B. Hunt.

Founders Honored by Brigham Young SUP Chapter Members

by N. LaVerl Christenson

The Brigham Young Chapter of Provo honored its founders by paying tribute the charter members of 31 years ago, 11 of whom were present for the occasion.

This SUP chapter was organized April 21, 1955 at the Joseph Smith Building on the Brigham Young University Campus, with 49 charter members.

The late Dr. Gustive O. Larson was the initial president. Four of his fellow officers, who are among the 23 charter members still living, attended the recent anniversary meeting -- Jay B. Hunt and Verl G. Dixon, vice presidents; Briant S. Jacobs, secretary-treasurer, and Richard D. Poll, director.

Scott Boyer Price

Scott Boyer Price, 81, life member SUP, church and civic leader, died June 9, 1986 following a stroke.

Scott was born August 19, 1904 in Provo, son of William and Letitia White. Married Clara Halverson June 8, 1927 in the Salt Lake Temple.

He served two terms on Ogden City council, one term as assistant mayor, and was president of Utah Retail Grocers Association.

Scott was the first president of the Ogden East Stake, serving for 19 years, building committee chairman of the Ogden LDS Temple and was a sealer in that temple at the time of his death.

Survivors are his widow, three sons, 17 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

According to Dr. R. Wayne Pace, current chapter president, honoring the charter members was made possible by painstaking efforts of Jay M. Smith, Jr. and his committee who spearheaded the search for addresses of surviving members and made contacts.

Speaker of the evening, Dr. Rolfe Kerr, Utah commissioner of higher education, was introduced by Ross B. Denham, program chairman.

Murray Chapter SUP Hosts Pot Luck Dinner Meetings

by W. F. "Bill" Smith

On the evening of April 24th our chapter had a very special dinner-business meeting for members and their wives. Eighty-four people attended as they were greeted by spring flower table decorations.

An organized "pot luck" dinner was prepared and served by a well-organized committee led by Chairman Don L. Jeppson. His wife, Helen, is an excellent musician and she rendered many beautiful piano selections for the prelude social period.

President-elect Arthur Sperry conducted the meeting. Acting as head chef, president W. F. "Bill" Smith was busy slicing the baked ham. Our ladies and their husbands had prepared a delicious meal to supplement the main course.

Following the dinner, several business matters were accomplished and then a glamorous musical group

Mother's Day and Birthday Marked At Temple Quarry

by Lois S. Ray

The Temple Quarry Chapter meeting in May featured a potluck dinner. Gene and Betty Newbold were in charge of the evening, assisted by Fred and Jane Johnson and J. C. and Bertha Richards. Following dinner we were entertained by a talented string quartet, composed of Ida Burroughs, Linda Curtis, and Valeea Mangum, accompanied by Chris Hansen.

Carrying out the Mother's Day theme of the meeting, the evening ended with a lovely, touching revue of the book, "Mother's" given by Gloria Ostler.

In June, Temple Quarry celebrated their birthday with a dinner catered by Carl Mellor. The ladies and gentlemen wore their green and white outfits to celebrate the occasion.

Hosts for the evening were Leo and Elaine Bigler, with the assistance of George and Ellen Krebs and Roy and Lois Maughan. Tod Cracroft played his guitar and sang for us following dinner. His wife Merrilee, joined him in song and he also involved the members in a sing-a-long.

Dr. Glen Humphries, curator and director of Wheeler Farm, showed us several unique relics from the farm and explained their use in pioneer days. He then gave a slide presentation of a visit to the farm, showing the restoration of several buildings.

Dr. T. H. Bell

Sugar House SUP Hear T. H. Bell

Dr. T. H. Bell, former secretary of education in President Reagan's cabinet, was the speaker at a Sugar House Chapter dinner meeting March 26. Previous to that high government position Dr. Bell had been commissioner of education for four years in the Nixon and Ford administrations.

In 1983 President Reagan asked Dr. Bell to make a survey and prepare a report on the national educational system and how it could be improved. Dr. Bell appointed Dr. David P. Gardner, then president of the University of Utah and now president of the University of California, to head the committee.

The result was a comprehensive and forceful report entitled "A Nation at Risk", a compact government report consisting of only thirty nine pages. Teachers and parents responded to the call for reform. It stimulated a rejuvenation and reformation in schools all over the nation. This year a national convention was held in Salt Lake City to learn what has resulted since the report was released.

Dr. Bell stated that although Utah

Respect for Flag, Service are Box Elder Goals

The Box Elder Chapter has several important goals this year. Two of these are: respect for the flag and volunteer service.

Pres. Lincoln Jenson has made a sincere effort to encourage members and friends to display the flag properly and often and to be inspired by what it stands for.

The second activity has found a home with chapter members and families. Thousands of hours of service have been given in many areas, with church service leading the way in the areas of temple work, missions, and other callings in wards, stakes and areas.

Thousands of hours of compassionate service has been given in hospitals and nursing homes. Recently Vernon C. Poulter was honored by the chapter and the local hospital for installing a life line project to more than 20 homes. This required more than 200 hours of volunteer service. His wife Ethel was honored for supplying 260 hours of compassionate service at the hospital in addition to many hours of service to the Church and community. C. Henry Neilsen made the presentation.

Many other chapter families have logged hundreds of hours of service in Senior Citizen Centers, schools and in so many other ways have made the chapter officers justly proud of them.

is a bit slower in leading out, we have made a good beginning. Graduation requirements from high school have been upgraded and entrance examinations for college have been improved. Our teachers are doing a good job in spite of the fact that Utah is lowest in the nation in funding from the state legislature; we have more students per class and lower wages than some of our neighboring states.
